THE TIMES.

A. H. CLEMENT, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

WEDNESDAY APRIL, 25, 1906.

"NEXT."

The country is guessing as to what the "strenuous" Mr. Roosevelt will do next. The latest news from him, and he gave it out himself in his "Muck Rake" speech, is that he is out "Heroding Herod," and has gone a bow-shot beyond the extreme socialists in his contention for drastic tax measures against accumulated wealth. This is startling when we consider the source. It looks like repeating the old story of killing the goose that laid the historic egg. We have but recently been advised of what part money played in the making of Mr. Roosevelt President, and now he would strike at the bosom that warmed him into official life. The thing is inexplicable—and they tell us that this is bid for a third term. To aspire to it is more than "strenuous," as his avenue of approach bristles with popular disapproval, if not with scorn. That aggregated wealth is a growing menace no thoughtful man will deny, and that the President is right in his wish to protect the people against its encroachments is just as true, but it is not sensible to become excited even in a bear chase. The lawyers say his proposed measure of relief would not stand the test of the courts. But lawyers are not always right. Some one ought to have sense enough to bit and bridle the fiery steed and give the reins in charge of careful and courageous handlers. Republican legislation is responsible for the condition upon which Mr. Roosevelt would make war, and the right thing for him to do is to quit his party, and instead of going to extremes join the Democratic forces and help make a successful fight for an open field and a fair chance for all.

"THERE IS NO GOD."

Funeral services of the late Senator Vance of North Carolina were held in the Senate chamber in the presence of that august body and a vast assemblage of admiring and loving fellow countrymen. The Rev. Dr. Hope of Richmond, in his day one of the most gifted pulpit orators of the land, conducted the services and riveted the interest of his auditors as in his opening sentence and in his own imitable manner he said, "There is nothing great but God." How much more impressive the words would have been if repeated to the awe-struck thousands of San Francisco as the granite foundations on which they builded were removed and the fair city of their love was swept from its proud place on the shores of the Pacific. "God's finger touched it and it was gone." Elsewhere in the TIMES will be found full description of the appalling calamity.

Senator Bailey is the last presidential possibility mentioned. We doubt the propriety of a Democratic nomination at all unless the Democrats of the nation can be induced to get together, and stay together. Tammany is torn with factional fights, Georgia is a sea of Democratic unrest, Kentucky is turbulent, and at any moment the Norfolk county contingent may put on Vesuvian airs. If we haven't sense enough to rule our own household it is colossal cheek to ask to be put in charge of larger interests.

We learn from the Richmond papers that in a recent address before the Y. M. C. A., the distinguished speaker said to the young men present, "listen to mother's prayer and then go and answer it." That would seem to leave the God who "hears and answers prayer" out of it, and to call a Christian minister, talking to a Christian association, have meant this? The young man must help himself, but the help he most needs comes from heaven and in answer to prayer.

Atlanta is to have another paper which will be edited by the brilliant J. Temple Graves. We wonder that Richmond should be satisfied with one morning daily, not that the Times-Dispatch is not a most excellent paper, but Richmond is too big to be known as a one-daily-morning-paper town. There should be nothing "one-horse" about her.

The handsomest compliment we have seen in print for many a day was that passed upon Mr. Joseph Bryan, owner of the Times-Dispatch, in an open letter from Mr. A. R Holderly, associate manager of the Evening Journal. Now "let us have peace."

Freaks of Lightning.

On Saturday evening the 21st, Mr. Henry G. Lewis, of Nelson, had one horse killed by lightning and also four head knocked into James river by the same flash, the mare, almost a thoroughbred, swam a long distance to Howardsville, Albemarle county, and was there rescued and was not much injured. During the same storm and about the same time, Dr. Charles McCulloch, who lives about three miles below Mr. Henry Lewis, in Buckingham county, had his stable struck by lightning and his negro driver and two fine horses were both knocked unconscious and the stable set on fire. Another colored man who was present, and only partially stunned, put out the fire with the water apparatus attached to the stable. The injured negro man recovered consciousness after a time and was not seriously injured; one of the horses recovered also in full, but the other is feared to be badly injured. He had recovered consciousness, but will not eat and seems to be weak and in bad shape. But the water apparatus on the stable would have gone and the loss have been very severe.

BUCKINGHAM.

Confederate Monument in Buckingham.

All the citizens of Buckingham are cordially invited to Buckingham Courthouse on the second Monday in May next, and they are requested to come as early in the day as is convenient. The object of the assemblage is to raise funds to erect a monument on the Court green in front of Buckingham Courthouse in honor of the brave and heroic Confederate soldiers who devoted their fortunes and lives in support of a noble cause which will ever remain dear to the hearts of all lovers of liberty throughout the world. Many have gone to the undiscovered land from whose bourne no traveler has ever yet returned, the beauty of their sabres will never again glist n in the sunlight of battle, but the memory of their glorious deeds is enshrined in the hearts of their countrymen forever. The sons of Buckingham were second to none in that glorious cause. Let us erect a monument to their memory which will defy the assaults of time. It will teach our posterity a glorious lesson; it will raise up a lofty ideal for our children and our children's children; it will prove to the world that our ancestors were willing to die in defense of the cause of constitutional liberty. Force may for a time dim the noble object of that great contest, but it has been true in the past, and it will be true in the future, that force has never established and will never establish a principle. The precious blood of the Confederate soldiers was not spilled in vain. Buckingham, the birthplace of liberty on the American continent, has cause to be proud of the record of her sons in the great war between the States of this Union.

The second Monday in May will be a great festive occasion, enlivened by public speaking. A cordial invitation is extended to all and no one will be debarred from the great privilege of subscribing to the erection of our glorious monument. I will be free to all.

CONFEDERATE.

Appomattox Camp Confederate Veterans met at Appomattox Courthouse (West Appomattox), Virginia, April 14, 1906, Commander T. J Stratton, presiding.

On motion, L. A. Bagby, J. C. Davidson and J. W. Carney were appointed a committee to solicit subscriptions for the Woman's Confederate Memorial Fund. J. W. Flood, J. P. L. Fleshman and H. P. Harvey were appointed a committee to draft resolutions of respect to comrade C. H. Coleman, who departed this life since the last meeting of the Camp, and that a copy of said resolutions, when prepared, be spread upon the minutes of the Camp, a copy of the same be sent to the family of the deceased and published in the county newspapers.

The election of the officers of the Camp being in order, the following officers were elected for the following year:

Commander, W. T. Johnson; First Lieutenant Commander, J. W. Flood; Second Lieutenant Commander, M. L. Covington; Third Lieutenant Commander, J. C. Jones; Adjutant, J. R. Atwood; Chaplain, J. C. Davidson; Surgeon, Dr. W. H. Abbitt; Treasurer, L. M. Pugh; Color Bearer, E. A. Simms; Quartermaster, H. P. Harvey; Sergeant-Major, C. H. Coleman, Jr.

The further election of officers was deferred until the next meeting.

There being no other business, it was ordered that the Camp adjourn to meet at West Appomattox June the 9th, 1906, at 10 o'clock, a. m.

T. J. STRATTON, Com'd't.
J. P. L. FLEHMAN, Acting Adj't.

Buckingham Examinations.

The uniform examination of both white and colored teachers will be held at Buckingham Courthouse on the 3d, 4th and 5th days of May, commencing promptly at 9 o'clock a. m. each day.

Respectfully,
JOHN A. TWYMAN, Div. Supt.

The calamity which has fallen upon San Francisco emphasizes the supreme importance of insurance, fire and life. Most of the companies carrying risks there are beyond the seas, but are not so far removed that they can not and will not give ready relief. The insurance business makes a community of the city-like.

THE TIMES.

EDNESDAY, APRIL 25, 1906.

Mr. W. L. Coleman has sold his farm—the old Davis place.

Mrs. Rebecca Garrett, near Vera, is critically ill of pneumonia.

Dr. Wesley Martin and bride, of Brewster, are guests at Hotel Atwood.

Mr. M. F. Kyle has returned from a business trip to Lynchburg.

Miss Sallie Hunter from Charlotte, is visiting Mrs. W. M. Hancock.

Mr. W. McKinney is now in the city buying some handsome stock for his livery.

Mrs. J. W. Flood, who has been attending the winter in Norfolk, is home again.

Rev. Dr. Wynn will preach at Pinewall next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

The Choral Club will meet at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. W. B. Caldwell next Friday night.

Mrs. J. P. L. Fleshman is still in the west Virginia with her daughter, Mrs. Cofer, who is very ill.

Mr. H. C. Steele, who has been at home for some time, is back to his place of duty as operator here.

There will be preaching at old Liberty Chapel church at 2 p. m. next Sunday, by Rev. M. Murphy.

For sale cheap—a nice young fresh cow and calf.

The Methodist Methodist church at Concord section was taken for the sufferers by the San Francisco earthquake fire.

Miss Vera Burks and Mrs. W. T. Bell visited their sisters, Misses Ida and Eula May Burke, at Brightleaf few days ago.

There are petitions in circulation praying Mr. E. R. Abbitt for commissioner of Revenue for this county. Mr. Babcock is an applicant for the appointment also.

Mr. Mary Miller, of Peoria, Ill., a son of the late Rev. Dr. Wm. D. Miller, of Dean Memorial Church, Lynchburg, has returned home after a visit to her nephew, Mr. C. W. Miller, during his illness.

Last Saturday Rev. W. L. Murphy united in marriage at the parsonage here Mr. W. W. Hight and Miss Mary E. Lucado. Mr. Hight is a son of Bedford and Miss Lucado is Appomattox's girls.

The Veterinarian, Dr. Ferneyhough, will address the farmers here on May court, the 14, on the subject of Texas fever or cattle tick. The farmers ought to come prepared to show that there exists no cattle tick in this territory and get it from the quarentine boundary.

With reference to losses in the Virginia fire, which amounts to $1,000 for this company, the general manager writes: "For your information we would say that we have had receipt of a cablegram from the Hamburg office this morning, stating that funds for the payment of losses will be immediately provided to meet this great calamity, following the precedent established of paying all conflagration losses from the resources in command of the home office, so that you will obtain from us the confidence and inspiration which we desire you to have. Remain, yours truly, F. O. Arnold, Manager." Hamburg Bremen Fire Ins. Co. of Hamburg, Germany.

This morning, at Rose Bower, Mr. Joel Harvey and Deputy Collector Sears got into an altercation, and the former was struck over the head with a stick, and up to the hour of going to press had recovered sufficiently to speak. He is in a precarious condition.

Rev. Hugh O. Smith is at this time on a visit to his old home, Emporia. It is said that Emporia has grown so much that it wants a big preacher, and that a call has been extended Mr. Smith, with a handsome salary attached. Mr. Smith is looking over the field and will not make any decision in the matter until he can have a talk with his deacons here. Appomattox will not give him up without a fight.

At the home of Mr. W. E. Woolridge, on last Wednesday, his daughter, Miss Willie, and Mr. Charles A. Warren, were united in marriage. Rev. W. E. Warren, father of the groom was present to perform the ceremony. The bride is one of the prettiest young ladies of our county and will be missed in the social realm of Evergreen, especially. The groom is a promising young business man of Bristol where the pair will make their home. The TIMES extends hearty congratulations and best wishes.

Preaching at Rocks.

The pastoral field composed of Rocks, Elon, Hollywood and Matthews Baptist churches are making an effort to secure a pastor. In the meantime services will be held as they are able to get supplies. Rocks church has been so fortunate as to secure Rev. D. S. Hubbell as supply. He will preach every third Sunday at 3:30 p. m. until a pastor is called.

Death of Mr. John W. Carnefix.

Died at his residence in Lynchburg, Va. on April 19th, 1906, John William Carnefix, a prominent and well-known citizen of this county. Mr. Carnefix, about twelve months ago, was stricken with the consumption of the bowels, from which attack he never fully recovered. All that loving hands and skilled physicians could do was done, but in vain. On last Thursday night he grew alarmingly worse, and all hopes of his recovery were despaired of, and at 9 o'clock he died, trusting in his Saviour. For the Master had come and called for him and he had answered and passed over the river and rests peacefully under the shade of the trees with loved ones who had gone on before.

The deceased was born 46 years ago in Hankins county, Tennessee, but spent the most of his life in Appomattox county, coming to this State when he was about twelve years old. He was twice married. His first wife was Miss Mary E. Megginson, daughter of Mr. J. C. Megginson, of this county, who died several years ago. One son, Joseph, survives him. Later he married Miss Turner, of Buckingham, who survives him with two children. Mr. Carnefix for several years has been connected with the firm of Adams & Carnefix, of Lynchburg. He was a member of New Hope Baptist church and a true and devoted christian. Besides his widow and children he leaves to mourn their loss a father and mother, three sisters and four brothers, being Misses Mary and Annie, Messrs. James H. and Thomas M. Carnefix, of this county, Chas. C. Carnefix, of Lynchburg, Mrs. Lucy Perkins and Henry J. Carnefix, of Richmond, Va.

The remains were brought down from Lynchburg on Friday afternoon and taken to the home of his father, from which place the interment took place last Saturday afternoon in the family burying ground.

May God comfort the family in their sad bereavement and cause them to realize that, while they mourn their loss, he is not dead, but dwells in that fair city where there is no death, where sorrow and cares are unknown, where no more farewells are ever spoken, but where they worship God and sing His praises forever and ever. For blessed are they that die in the Lord, for they rest from their labors and their works do follow them.

A Card.

WEST APPOMATTOX, April 24th, 1906.
To the TAX-payers of Appomattox County:
I having not come to my knowledge the petitions are being circulated in the interest of another party for the office of Commissioner of Revenue for this district of my present term, and as such I am taking this means of informing you of my candidacy, that I am a candidate for the position you now hold, and in asking your endorsation, I beg to say that I have, during my term of office, tried to perform my duties, faithfully, conscientiously and without fear or favor.
In view of the fact that there will be no vacancy for nearly two years, it may be some time before I can see all my friends, but in due time I expect to see every man in the county, and to those who believe that I have performed my duties faithfully, I most earnestly beg that you will sign no other petition.
Thanking you for your most generous support in the past, and soliciting a continuance of the same in the future, I remain,
Very respectfully,
W. L. BABCOCK

If you want to vote next fall pay your poll tax before May 6th. Don't forget it.

Glenfall.

After a long spell of pleasant weather we have now to resume our places by the fire. A heavy frost last night seems to have played havoc with early fruit. All the peaches that have been examined are dead, and the trees are loaded with blooms.

Farmers have finished sowing oats for the most part and are now planting corn. Grass and wheat are growing rapidly. There is some complaint of the ravages of the fly upon plant-beds.

We regret to note the sickness of Mr. Hunter Moore. He is confined to his room, and may be for some time yet. Mr. John Deso, his assistant farmer, is also sick to keep work.

Miss Verona Bell is visiting her sister, Mrs. Z igler, in Cumberland.

Mrs. Gilbert continues sick at the home of Mr. J. H. Garrett. Her daughter, Mrs. Jenkins, of Cumberland, and son from the same county, have recently visited her.

We are much obliged to the West Buckingham correspondent for advertising those frying size chickens, especially as the Buckingham Methodists have such long latchstrings, both for Methodists and Baptists.

Mr. Warren Thornhill recently visited his old home near here.

We miss our letters from West Dinwiddies. We must send our genial correspondent a gentle reminder.

Mr. Ragland Featherstone was unfortunate last Saturday in having a break-up of his vehicle and himself a little bruised up, though he was out on Sunday. His horses became frightened and upset the wagon and, of course, the driver was thrown out.

Mr. Page's son, Robert, who has been ill, is much better.

The TIMES for news.

Cured Hemorrhages of the Lungs.
"Several years since my lungs were so badly affected that I had frequent hemorrhages," writes A. D. Ake, of Wood, ind. "I took treatment with several physicians without any benefit. I then started to take Foley's Honey and Tar, and my lungs are now as sound as a bullet. I recommend it to advanced stages of lung trouble." Foley's Honey and Tar stops the cough and heals the lungs, and prevents serious results from a cold. Refuse substitutes.

The Original.

Foley & Co., Chicago, originated Honey and Tar as a throat and lung remedy, and on account of the great merit and popularity of Foley's Honey and Tar many imitations are offered for the genuine. These worthless imitations have similar sounding names. Beware of them. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar is in a yellow package. Ask for it and refuse any substitute. It is the best remedy for coughs and colds.
